

Priced for an Easy ROI

Priced at the low end of the market, RFP Response Builder is accessible to small to medium sized companies that don't have the extra resources to dedicate to responding to RFPs. Your sales, engineering, and administrative staff's productivity won't come to a grinding halt every time you respond to an RFP. The return on investment for using RFP Builder happens at just 5 hours a month – If you spend at least 5 hours a month across your team finding content, trying to get updates, cutting & pasting, and reformatting your RFP response – then this is going to be a no-brainer!

ROI:

If your team spends at least 5 hours a month finding content, trying to get updates, cutting & pasting, and reformatting your RFP responses - then RFP Response Builder is a no-brainer!
